DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY

VOLUME II.

SPRINGFIELD, KY., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1906.

NUMBER 44

HON. C. C. McCHORD.

THE RAILROADS WILL TRY TO DEFEAT HIM FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER.

HIGHWAYS AND FARMS

Have Been Greatly Damaged By the Heavy Rainfall.

Heavy rains during the past week have done untold damage to crops, farming lands and public highways throughout Washington and adjoining counties. Miles of fences have been swept away by the swollen streams, and in a few instances small bridges have been washed from their abutments. The pikes in many places are almost impassable. Reports come from the river sections that hundreds of dollars worth of corn, tobacco and hay have been lost.

OLD GRAYSON

s For Hon. Ben Johnson First, Last And All The Time Says The Gazette.

A representative class of Grayson county voters heard Hon. Ben Johnson, Democratic nominee for Congress, at the court house here last Monday afternoon. Mr. Johnson is a plain, forcible speaker and strikes to the heart of an argument. He touched the various issues in the present campaign and explained his attitude toward the trusts and general monopoly in no uncertain language, declared for the protection of the farmer and his products against the scheming and designing organized monopolies. Mr. Johnson is an artist in showing the ridiculous absurdity of the provisions of the Dingley tariff law and the free list. The speaker said in an ironical manner that he was glad that the Republican party had seen fit to place across, ashes, Dragon's blood and a few other necessities on the free list. It is predicted that Mr. Johnson will get the largest vote polled in this county for many years in the Congressional race; in fact old Grayson is for Ben Johnson first, last and all the time.

An Awful Cough Cured.

"Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat," writes Mrs. Ora Bussard, Brakes, Ill. This remedy is for sale by every reliable dealer in the Blue Grass.

VICTORIES

For the Drys In Trimble, Nicholas and Simpson.

Franklin, Sept. 29, Ky.—A county unit local option election was held in this county to-day. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held an all-day prayer meeting at the Cumberland Presbyterian church. Every precinct voted dry except Sunny Side. The entire vote footed up 978 majority for a whiskey drouth.

"Drys" Win in Rain.

Bedford, Ky., Sept. 29.—The local option election here to-day resulted in a majority of 421 in favor of the "drys." Rain fell every day and a light vote was polled. Every precinct in the whole of Trimble county voted for prohibition.

Nicholas Follows Suit.

Carlisle, Ky., Sept. 29.—Nicholas county goes dry by 811 majority, and the temperance workers are saving a jubilee to-night. Only a two-third vote was cast. The election was quiet over the county.

REGISTRATION

Yesterday In Springfield Resulted About as Last Year.

Yesterday was registration day, and while all the voters did not register, nearly all did. The registration lacked three of being as large as last year, while in 1904 309 registered. The number registering in the different precincts was as follows:

	Dem.	Rep.	Ind.
No. 8	44	78	28
No. 9	22	15	5
No. 10	47	29	6
Total	113	113	37

This seems to indicate that the independent vote will decide the result of the election in Springfield as the two old parties are on exactly even terms. The independent vote this year shows an increase of 17. The Democratic vote a loss of 7, and the Republican a loss of 12. In 1904 the Republicans had a majority of 18 over the Democrats; last year they had a majority of 4, while this year a tie is the result.

MR. McCHORD COMPLIMENTED

By The Republican Press of Louisville.

The Herald Says He Is a Faithful and Pains-taking Official.

The Evening Post Charges That a Scheme Is On to Defeat Mr. McChord.

MR. DREWRY OUT OF RACE.

The following editorial is from the Louisville Herald:

Word has gone forth from Democratic headquarters that McChord must make way for Drewry. With the intent of the Democrats The Herald, at the expense of being dubbed a butter-its, enters an emphatic protest.

Frankly, we avow the quarrel in the Democratic party to be none of our business. On the other hand, we hold that it is within our right to call public attention to one or two facts.

Charles C. McChord was elected Railroad Commissioner ten years ago and was endorsed by the Republicans of the State. He has been a valiant champion of the people; indeed, at this moment we know of no public official Kentucky has to whom she could say with more candor "Well done, good and faithful servant."

McChord has devoted the best part of his life to the cause of the people. He has been a staunch friend of Louisville merchants and manufacturers. He has been able to meet corporate greed with strict interpretation of the law, and in so doing has incurred corporate enmity.

The Herald holds no brief for Mr. McChord, but it would be careless of the duty it owes the public if it did not do the simple act of justice to an honest official.

The machine candidate for the place is the Hon. Tommy Drewry, a statesman who could not tell a rate tariff from the Kreutzer Sonata.

The business men of Louisville ought to know this, and they will know more about it, if this outrage on their intelligence—this rape of the conscience of the people—is ever attempted.

The following editorial is from the Evening Post:

One of the most significant moves on the political chessboard was made in Louisville Saturday, and it deserves to be brought to public attention. The First Railroad District Committee was called to meet to authorize the primary of November 6, at which State candidates are to be named, to name also a candidate for Railroad Commissioner.

The meeting drew together politicians and local bosses from every section of the state, yet only three members of the district committee appeared in person. Wrangling began at once. Objections were made to the call. Objections were made to proxies. Objections came to every motion, and soon it was clear that whatever other candidates desired or the Democrats demanded, there would be no primary for Railroad Commissioner in the First district.

This surprised the friends of Mr. Ferguson, who had been promised by the party a primary. It was soon apparent machine politics were playing a very subtle game. It seemed all right to have candidates for Senator and State offices named by the Democrats at a primary, but no chance was to be taken as far as the railroad commission is concerned. So in the language of the Courier Journal the committee "called the damned thing off." No appeal was entertained and the case was settled. It will be a convention in the First district.

Strangely enough, the Louisville politicians were as much interested as if it were a Louisville fight. Tom Drewry's friends were ubiquitous, giving their advice gratuitously, and all in one direction—against a primary.

It seemed as if it were a fight for Drewry more than against Ferguson. Today it is said authoritatively that the same action will be taken here and no primary for Railroad Commissioner be held November 6.

In this district Commissioner McChord will be a candidate for renomination for re-election, and there is a determined purpose to supplant him with Drewry.

The mention of Drewry's name was not taken seriously at first. He has always been part of the machine, and direct agent of the Haldemans in politics. It was not believed that they could even with railroad assistance put Mr. Drewry on the commission, but it has recently been clear that all other considerations were to be put aside in order to make Mr. Drewry Railroad Commissioner. The Governorship, the Senatorship, party success are all secondary to the success in putting Drewry on the commission.

It is a herculean task. We believe it to be impossible. Mr. McChord has had long experience in his position. He has stood in the ranks of those who demanded more power for the commission, but in the exercise of the power he has not been an extremist. A recent decision reducing local rates has been rendered and will have to be passed on by the courts.

The election will not take place until November, 1907. Many things happen in a year. Many alliances are made and new combinations are formed. Public attention is now fixed on the Senatorship and the Governorship, but the control of the Railroad commission is more important than either or both of the other places.

Up to this time the contest has been made in the dark; hereafter every action must be taken in the open.

The people are patient, but they are awake. They see the power slipping from them to the hands of a few men too late to resume it. Weary told what the liquor interests and what the State machine will do and what Lexington Bosses intend, what the Louisville gang have decided, but as yet all this is tentative and problematical. The basis of an agreement between the enemies of popular government has not been reached. When it is reached that combine will find itself face to face with an angered and united people quickened to action by an awakened conscience.

The following is from yesterday's Evening Post:

At a recent meeting of the Democratic politicians of the city of Louisville and certain railroad representatives it was decided to withdraw Thomas Drewry from the race for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner against C. C. McChord and substitute in his place John D. Wakefield, now a member of Paul Barth's Board of Safety.

This was done with the consent of Drewry, who is to get Wakefield's place on the Board of Public Safety.

Drewry has been a candidate for the Railroad Commissioner's nomination for several months, and it was owing to the activity of his supporters in Louisville that his nomination, together with the other Railroad Commissioner nomination, was kept out of the State primary.

As days went by, however, it became more apparent that Drewry could not be nominated. A final conference was, therefore, called and Drewry agreed to withdraw, and the name of Mr. Wakefield was then presented and accepted.

It also seemed thought, however, that Wakefield will give up his place on the Board of Safety unless he is nominated for the other position. His nomination over Mr. McChord will only be possible by the continuation of an agreement on the same principle. It is an anti-septic and when applied to such injuries causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your house and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by every reliable dealer in the Blue Grass.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on the same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your house and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. ## NEGRO MAN DROWNED

Saturday Night In Attempting to Ford a Stream.

On last Saturday night Oscar Lewis, colored, was drowned in Three Lick creek in the northern part of the county, near Cornishville.

The negro had been to Harrodsburg with Miller Birch and Ben Divine, two white men, and on the way home drove into the creek, not knowing its swollen condition. The men were driving a double team, a mule and a horse, hitched to a road wagon, and when the animals were driven into the water, Divine, who was in the rear end of the wagon, saw the danger and jumped out in time to save himself. Mr. Birch and the negro man were unable to get out and were carried rapidly into the main current. Mr. Divine watched the team and the men who still held to the wagon, until all were lost in the darkness. In a short time he heard cries for help and upon going down the stream a short distance found his friend Birch clinging to a willow bush. The cries of Birch attracted Mr. Bob Shelton, who went to the scene, taking with him a rope, which was thrown to Birch. But he could not use it, or in other words he was afraid to attempt. For five hours he remained in the water clinging to the willow bush, begging piteously to those on the bank to save him. All during this time efforts were being made to reach him, but the swift current drove rescuers back. Not until the water receded was he rescued.

Mr. Shelton then swam to the man, fastened the rope to him and he was pulled from the river more dead than alive. He is now all right.

The colored man was found about one mile down the stream in a sitting position with his arms tightly locked around the trunk of a tree.

The horse was drowned, but it is said that the mule got astride of a small log, thus saving itself.

DANVILLE COOKS

Have Formed a "Society of Folded Hands" and Refuse to Cook.

Danville Advocate: Organized labor prevails in Danville, and during the past few months those connected with it have been quietly banding themselves together for mutual protection, so they claim. So quietly has this been going on that no outsider in the city was aware of its existence until one member, who was quite enthusiastic over the success of the organization, gave the scheme away, but not in time to prevent trouble among the housewives of Danville.

"The Society of Folded Hands" has been organized in Danville, and it is claimed by those high in authority that every colored cook is a member and has sworn to abide by the bylaws. For three months the housewives of Danville have almost been driven to despair over the inability to get cooks to go to their kitchens and work for any length of time, if at all. The situation has grown desperate in the past few weeks and all efforts to secure a remedy have proved futile. An organization among the "kitchen laborers" of Danville was never dreamed of, and when it leaked out the first of the week that such a union prevailed in the city the women of Danville were horrified. Who is the instigator of such a move on the part of the cooks could not be learned, nor could any of the high mugs of the organization be located for an interview. One or two members were seen who acknowledged that they were members of the band, but refused to give out-any inside information whatever concerning this mysterious order.

It was learned, however, that the months of June, July and August have been set aside for rest, and that under a heavy penalty no member is allowed to enter a kitchen during these months. Some have remained out during September, and it is likely that they will stay at home until the wintry winds drive them to work. They can leave the kitchens and return at any other time they choose, but during these three months they are required to fold their hands, sit around and enjoy a life of idleness.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

"Whoso bloweth his own horn, the same shall be blown with mornness. Whoso bloweth not his own horn, the same shall not be blown at all."

Last Friday was the end of the first school month and the new report books were given the students Monday. These new books fill a long felt want, supplying as they do an adequate report of the work of the student to the parents. Many times the teachers are criticised because the parents are in no closer touch with the work of the students, and it was to obviate this that the new system of reports was inaugurated. The reports contain all the facts of the life of the pupils in such a way that they may be easily seen. The students are manifesting a great interest and there seems to be a strong desire on the part of all to present a good record on the end of every month.

The next regular meeting of the Literary and Debating society will be next Friday afternoon, and an interesting program has been arranged. There will be declamations, orations and debates. There has also been rumor afloat in the school that some music would be on tap, though of just what nature or by whom has never been definitely found out. There will be recitations by Parker Medley, Ollie Barber, Cleo Denaway, Lyman Barber, Leo Simms, Will Waters, Stanley Dawson, Ed Litsey, Allen Waters, Mary Haydon and one or two to be assigned. The debate will be on the subject: "Resolved that heredity has more influence on shaping one's life than environment or education." The affirmative will be given by Minton Cregor, Nancy Tonge, Walter Clements, Davidson Reed, Bennie Waters and Knight Hanby. The negative will have the support of John Claybrook, L. D. Walker, Finley Scruggs, Walter Royalty, Hattie Webb and Mabel Price.

The mandolin and guitar club is continuing to engross the attention of the students until the youthful aspirer to fame is beginning to feel that music is the only road to his goal and that the mandolin or guitar is the only kind that leads directly in that direction. Miss Ray now has a class of about eighteen though only about thirteen will play in the school club. Several are still dogging the heels of papa in hopes that they may at last be able to persuade him by their own playing. All the members have received one lesson and in about two months they hope to be able to get together and give the public a sample of their article of music.

The first of the regular monthly entertainments of the primary grades was given in the fifth grade room by the pupils of Miss Sallie Carver. The room was decorated in excellent taste and the speeches were given in a manner that showed much training on the part of their teacher. Miss Sue Ray played on the guitar for the room and all present declared they had received a treat such as seldom falls their lot. These entertainments will be given by the teachers and pupils of the first five grades once a month, the rooms taking the work by turns.

The tops have come, the tops have went The boys have the pennies spent And all for naught! The many tops that might have been Cut off, or shoes with holes therein Ails are still in good repair For not a top can now appear (At least be caught) Upon the grounds of the Graded School And marbles again have resumed their role.

All of the teachers with the exception of the principal are taking music either on the guitar or piano or voice. The teachers of the lower grades are taking vocal in order to be able to teach it in their grades.

YELLOW FEVER

Shows An Increase in Havana
And Maj. Keene is Called to Fight The Pest.

Washington, Oct. 1.—American medical skill and energy have been called again to the front to guard Havana from a worse foe than the insurgents—the yellow fever. Maj. Jefferson Keene, medical corps, U. S. A., who has been ordered to Havana from Washington, and is now on his way to report to Secretary Taft, will take charge of the sanitary regulation of the city.

According to advice received here by the public health and marine hospital service, there is a considerable amount of yellow fever now in the Cuban capital. When the Palma administration tolerated the sanitary service weakened, Mr. Taft was apparently quick to realize it, for he promptly ordered Maj. Keene to Havana before his previous experience under Gen. Wood in ridding Havana of the malarial during the Spanish war. The fever is not so extensive as to cause alarm for the health of Americans. Under the measures taken by Mr. Taft, it is thought the situation will soon be entirely safe.

An Obstacle in Moving Troops.
The existence of yellow fever in Havana already is an obstacle to the rapid movement of troops from Gulf ports. The southern states, which were swept with a yellow fever epidemic a few months ago, require that all vessels from Cuba shall not leave for five days in quarantine before entering a port. Should an army transport after taking on detachment of soldiers to Cuba return for another, it would have to wait five days before embarking them. Surgeon General Wyman, of the public health and marine hospital service, is giving thought to this question in preparation for any request which may be made that he seek, in conjunction with various naval and military health, an arrangement more expeditious. It is doubtful if the gulf states will waive their laws to any material extent, and for this reason most of the troops of subsequent expeditions may have to go from northern ports, where it is more difficult to carry contagion. American troops are now moving toward Cuba. Mobilization of the force will be at Newport News, Va., for the most part, although a part of the first expeditionary force will be sent from New York and Tampa, Fla. Advice received at the departments of the military estimates and government indicate that all is quiet in Cuba, and that the insurgents intend to lay down their arms.

No Serious Trouble Anticipated.
The probability is that United States forces in the island will be landed only as a precautionary measure. So far as officials of the government here are concerned, no trouble of a serious kind is anticipated, but with instructions from President Roosevelt hurried preparations are being made for the sending of an expeditionary force of the army to Cuba.

The first American troops will be landed at Havana next Saturday. Meantime, the marine hospital service from the American fleet in Cuban waters will protect American interests and support Secretary Taft, the national governor of Cuba, in the preservation of order and the protection of life and property.

Arrangements have been concluded not only for the first expeditionary force to Cuba of about 5,000 men, but for a second force of equal numbers. No orders for the movement of the second force, of course, have been issued, but if the men are needed all arrangements have been completed for hurrying them to Cuba at the earliest possible moment.

HUNDREDS OF MILES

Of Land Were Inundated in the Mississippi River Delta.
New Orleans, Oct. 1.—Reports that probably a dozen lives were lost and that hundreds of square miles of land were under 15 inches of water during the hurricane on the Mississippi river delta were brought here. The delta tract begins 50 to 70 miles below New Orleans and is mostly inhabited by fishermen and oystermen. Messages which left these villages Saturday night said that up to now several persons were still missing. The tug R. C. Velt, which was tied up during the hurricane about 75 miles down the river, is now being towed back during the night. Early in the night seven women and two men were seen nearly up to their armpits in water which was running inland from the gulf with sufficient force to cause them to dodge from tree to tree to avoid losing their footing.

"Cold" Tablets Killed Her.
General, Neb. Oct. 1.—A four-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Pickett, swallowed about 40 "cold" tablets containing morphine and calomel, and died in a few hours. She got her hands on the tablets without the knowledge of the parents.

Off For Cuba.
Norfolk, Va., Oct. 1.—The United States battleship USS Oregon, which has been hurriedly fitted out and placed in commission at the Norfolk navy yard, sailed for Cuba, carrying between 250 and 300 marines who had been mobilized at the naval station here.

Accuses Superior.
Manila, Oct. 1.—Maj. Ayers, who is under arrest at Ft. McKinley, charged with insubordination by Col. Kingsbury, has filed charges against Col. Kingsbury, accusing him of misconduct with the wife of Private O'Brien.

HIS HANDS
Streaming With His Playmate's Blood,
Seven-Year-Old Ran For Doctor.

Central City, Ky.—Russell Malloy, the four-year-old son of E. P. Malloy, was fatally shot by a rifle in the hands of another boy, William Hamilton, son of John Hamilton. The boys were examining the weapon in a stable and tried to put it back in the box where they found it. The hammer hit the side of the box, and the charge struck Russell Malloy's right side below his neck, breaking the collar bone. Young Hamilton tried to stop the blood with his hands, and, falling, ran from one office to another for a doctor, with the blood of his playmate streaming from his hands. Learning that the Malloy boy would die he tried to cut his throat with a knife, saying: "If Russell died I want to die, too." The child died in an inoperable condition.

EASTERN SYNDICATE
Went Over the Ground for a Proposed Traction Line to Spring Lake.

Covington, Ky.—There are indications that a traction line will be built out of Covington as far as Spring Lake, along the Kentucky Central railroad, to Kentucky Independence, the county seat of Kenton county. The information is given by a party interested in the movement. He said the surveys had been made for the two routes. As soon as a certain strip of land is secured those who are pushing the scheme will advertise for a franchise. The party interested in the deal was also certain that the line would extend into Cincinnati.

SURVIVORS

BY A LARGE MAJORITY
Kentucky Policy Holders Decide to Support International Ticket.

Lexington, Ky.—A large meeting of the policy holders of the New York Life and the Mutual Life insurance companies was held in this city. Representative men from all parts of Central Kentucky were present. Henry R. Prewitt, state insurance commissioner, delivered an address. He advocated the appointment of a committee to confer with the committees of other states, and if necessary visit New York and report to the Kentucky policy holders. After much discussion the meeting decided by a large majority to support the international ticket.

Philadelphia.—The quicker your cat can develop a case of appendicitis the quicker will your neighbors be to acknowledge that he belongs to the fashionable canine set. If he has a faraway look in his eyes, or whines continually, or refuses to eat, or most important of all, if he lumps his right hind leg, he has it all right.

The symptoms mentioned are those given by a prominent veterinarian, and if it does have one of the habits it is said he may have only a slight attack of the disease, but if he has all four, then nothing but the removal of the offending organ will save his life. Paratus, the mascot of the torpedo boat Hopkins, which is now lying at League Island, is the first dog in this city to undergo the operation to have its appendix removed.

The operation on the dog was suggested by one of the surgeons at League Island, who gave the dog a thorough examination, at the request of the jockies, who believed their pet was dying. He suggested a surgeon who would take the case, and with all the care that would be shown to a human being Paratus was removed to the canine hospital. Here the dog was put through another examination by a man versed in the diseases of animals, who agreed with the naval surgeon that Paratus was a sufferer from appendicitis.

By a Medium Was This Harrodsburg Woman of Her Son's Death.

Harrodsburg Herald: Monday morning the sad news reached here of the death of Mr. Thomas Bigger in Newport News, where he had been in business for several years. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bigger, of this city, and his remains were brought here Tuesday for burial in Spring Hill cemetery. He was one of the finest specimens of young manhood that ever grew up here—bright, genial, one of the best athletes in the state, and a splendid example of physical and moral manliness. He was a graduate of the Graded School here, and also of Central University, Prof. C. W. Bell, who prepared him for his college course, says he never associated with a more straightforward, honest and studious pupil. After his graduation he settled in Newport News, Va., and was very successful as an electrician, being employed at the ship yard, held an interest in a bakery business and had recently passed an examination and received an appointment as a clerk in the postoffice, and it is regrettable that such a promising career should be shortened by death. He had been ill about six weeks with typhoid fever, and a most singular and mysterious incident regarding his illness happened. About a year ago his elder brother, Mr. Clarence Bigger, died—a young man who stood very high in the estimation of all who knew him. Some weeks ago Mrs. Bigger, while on a visit to friends in Louisville, consulted a medium, and this son in a communication to his mother told her that Tom would shortly pass through a serious illness. A younger son, Lloyd, was spending the summer with his brothers in Newport News, and on his return the mother questioned him very closely regarding his brother's health. His reports tended to set her mind at rest, but some days ago while about her household duties the voice of her son, Clarence, who had previously warned her, spoke out of space, telling her the illness was upon Thomas, and that a letter giving the particulars was then in his father's coat pocket. Mrs. Bigger dropped her work and began to search for the letter, but found her husband had worn the coat down town. On his return she asked him to give her the letter in his pocket, and started, he asked who had told her it was there. It seems that a letter had been received from Mr. Lindsay Bigger telling of the serious sickness of his brother, and fearing to excite and worry his wife, who had felt the other son's death so deeply, he had kept the news of this last trouble from her. But through the warning of her dead son the mother was prepared and supported in this last great hour of trial, and the shock of his death was not so disastrous as it might have been had the news come to her unexpectedly. He was twenty-six years of age. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the family residence on Beaumont avenue at 2 o'clock by Rev. J. M. Roddy, assisted by Dr. M. G. Buckner. The interment took place at Spring Hill cemetery, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows.

Heart Weakness

The action of the heart depends upon the heart nerves and muscles. When from any cause they become weak or exhausted, and fail to furnish sufficient power, the heart flutters, palpitates, skips beats; and in its effort to keep up its work, causes pain and distress, such as smothering spells, short breath, fainting, pain around heart, arm and shoulders. The circulation is impeded, and the entire system suffers from lack of nourishment.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure makes a heart strong and vigorous by strengthening these nerves and muscles.

"I had palpitation and pain around my heart, and the doctors said it was incurable. I don't believe it now, for after taking six bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, three bottles of the Nerve and Liver Pills I am entirely cured, and feel better than I have for five years, and I am all due to these remedies. I want you to know that your medicines cured me. It relieved me from the first dose, and I kept right on till the pain in my chest was gone, and I kept on feeling better, and even after quit taking it." JOHN H. STEVENSON, Belling, Mich.

WE ARE REBUKED.

In the last issue of The Sun we printed the following editorial under this heading: "Gov. Beckham, It's Up to You!"

"The Democrats of Washington county are watching Louisville with much interest. Gov. Beckham put the lid on, and the people applauded him. But the lid came off! Gov. Beckham says he will put it on again, and that's what the people of this county are interested in. Every day the question is asked by many of our countrymen: 'Will Beckham put the lid on in Louisville?' The Governor says he has the authority to do this. If he has the authority, certainly he has the power. The State militia is at his command; he is the commander-in-chief. And it's up to you, Gov. Beckham. If you put the Louisville lid on in the next week or two—if you put it on good and tight—Louisville lid on the next week or two—if you are sincere—that you will be making a grandstand play. They will believe that you have 'made a deal' as the Louisville Herald of yesterday charges, with the whiskey element for Louisville's vote. Washington county will give from 500 to 1,000 majority against you."

We have received quite a lengthy personal letter, together with some clippings, from a good friend in another county, in which we are mildly rebuked for publishing the above. He concludes his letter thusly: "I am at a point where I am unable to explain why SO MANY articles unfavorable to Beckham have crept into your paper."

With one exception NOT A SINGLE LINE UNFAVORABLE TO GOV. BECKHAM has been printed in The Sun, and that "exception" was a brief, but very uncomplimentary paragraph, copied from the Boyle County Herald, and printed in our issue of August 30, last. The Herald paragraph was printed without credit or comment, which, of course, was a mistake on the part of The Sun! Indeed, we considered the paragraph so unjust, so unnecessarily vindictive, that an explanatory circular was issued and signed by the editor of The Sun. In our issue of September 5 a correction was also published in our editorial column.

The friend, from whom we received the letter referred to above, expressed himself at the time as being satisfied with our explanation, therefore, we must conclude that insofar as the Boyle County Herald paragraph is concerned, our friend is yet satisfied.

Positively, there has not been another line unfavorable to Gov. Beckham printed in The Sun since that mistake occurred. Consequently we are unable to understand what our friend means when he says "SO MANY articles unfavorable to Gov. Beckham have crept into your paper."

Indeed, we can not comprehend just what our good friend is "driving at." However, it is plain to us that he is dissatisfied with our utterance of last week. Why, he is dissatisfied, he fails to say.

Certainly, we did not intend it as "anti-Beckham thunder," and we are sure that a close reading of the editorial will reveal nothing of the sort. Read it critically, and if you find a single sentence that misrepresents, or, for that matter, a single line, which in any way can be twisted into "anti-Beckham" meaning, the columns of The Sun are open for a "call-down."

It is true that The Sun has printed nothing in Gor. Beckham's favor; neither has it printed anything in Senator McCreary's favor. We have said nothing either for or against Hayes or Hager, nor has there been anything said in the columns of The Sun either for or against any other candidate seeking the Democratic nomination before the State primary. In family contests our policy has always been neutral. However, if a loyal friend of the editor of The Sun, or a countyman, seeks a district nomination, or a nomination for State office, we support him. Otherwise our policy is one of "laying low and saying nothing." As a reward for this neutrality we have never been made to puke over a plate of crow; we have never had our Republican friends to fling our own mean words back at us; and, praise goodness, it has never been our unhappy duty to twist back into line, somersault-into the bandwagon, or to balm our sore spots with the spiked-oils of the physicians on the other side.

But do not understand us to mean by this that we will refuse under all circumstances to depart from, or disregard, this rule. If we think it necessary to fight a candidate for a Democratic nomination we will "hit-as-hard-as-we-can" as we know how. In the cases of Gov. Beckham and Senator McCreary we can see no need for combat from this sanctum-sanctorum. Between the two we decided for which one we would vote some time ago, but it is no more necessary for the editor of a newspaper to tell the people in print for whom he will vote than it is for any other individual to publish in the columns of a paper his intentions along this line.

But let's get back to our editorial of last week. That's the cause of the rebuke administered by our friend.

Let us look at this editorial in the light of reason and see if we can find anything "unfavorable to Beckham."

The first sentence: "The Democrats of Washington county are watching Louisville with much interest."

That's true; we can furnish the proof. Certainly there can be nothing wrong about the Democrats of Washington county watching Louisville with much interest. That's just what the people of all political beliefs in every county in Kentucky are doing.

Second sentence: "Gov. Beckham put the lid on and the people applauded him."

No Governor of Kentucky, no public official of Kentucky, ever received such general commendation as did Gov. Beckham when the announcement was made that he had put the lid on in Louisville. Hand-clapping throughout the State, so to speak. Therefore, no objection can be urged to that sentence.

Third sentence: "But the lid came off!" This is undisputed. But the fact that the lid came off is no reason, of course, why Gov. Beckham should be blamed. He can not prevent crime. He can only TRY to prevent it.

Fifth paragraph: "Gov. Beckham says he will put it on again, and that's what the people of this county are interested in." There is nothing "unfavorable to Beckham" in that sentence, and we pass to the next.

Sixth Sentence: "Every day the question is asked by many of our countrymen: 'Will Beckham put the lid on in Louisville?'" Anything anti-Beckham in that sentence? If so, point it out.

Seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth sentences:

"The Governor says he has the authority to do this."

"If he has the authority, certainly he has the power."
"The State militia is at his command; he is the Commander-in-Chief."
"And it's up to you Gov. Beckham."

We deny that there is a single word in the above sentences hostile, or uncomplimentary, to Gov. Beckham.

When Gov. Beckham said that he would again put the lid on in Louisville he put it up to himself to do it.

Eleventh sentence: "If you put the Louisville lid on in the next week or two—if you put it on good and tight—Washington county will give you a nice majority."

We reiterate! If Gov. Beckham puts the lid on in Louisville again—good and tight—WASHINGTON COUNTY WILL GIVE HIM A NICE MAJORITY. Anything wrong with that sentence? "Anything in it unfavorable to Beckham?"

But let us warn the Governor that he must not wait too long to put the lid on. If he waits too long a great many people might be persuaded that it is only "temporarily on," and that it is only a play to galleries. The lid ought to have been fastened down last Sunday, or Sunday before last, etc., but it wasn't. PUT IT ON NEXT SUNDAY. DO IT NOW! Governor.

Twelfth sentence: "If you do not put the Louisville lid on the people will feel that you are insincere—that you have been making a grandstand play."

What's the matter with that sentence? Anything "unfavorable to Beckham?" If so, we should like to have it pointed out.

We do not accuse Gov. Beckham of being insincere; far from it. We only warn him that the Democrats of Washington county are expecting him to do just what he has announced that he will do. If he does not do it they will believe him insincere—they will believe he is making a grandstand play. But they are waiting— anxiously—waiting—for the Governor to act. Indeed, the Democrats of Washington county want to honor Gov. Beckham with their votes.

If he puts the lid on in Louisville we honestly believe Washington county will give him practically a unanimous vote.

Thirteenth sentence: "They will believe that you 'have made a deal' as the Louisville Herald of yesterday charges, with the whiskey element for Louisville's vote, and Washington county will give from 500 to 1,000 majority against you."

If Gov. Beckham fails to put the lid on in Louisville—if he refuses to make an attempt to put the lid on, will the Democrats of Washington county not have sufficient reasons to believe that the statements made through the Louisville Post and Herald—that a deal has been made by the Governor with Louisville's notorious gang of bootleggers and corruptionists for the city's vote—are true? It will be a waste of time—a very, very poor argument indeed, for any of us to try to convince the voter of the untruthfulness of a charge of this nature just because it is made in the columns of Republican newspapers. Unless more stringent, more forcible argument—yes unless determined action itself is introduced into the case, the circumstances will be very convincing evidence—the face of things will show THE DEAL.

And we reiterate! Washington county will give from 500 to 1,000 majority against Gov. Beckham.

As we have previously said, the Democrats of Washington county want to honor Gov. Beckham with their votes. THEY WILL honor him if he will use his authority, exercise his power, as Governor of the Commonwealth to halt and quarter the most brazen gang of criminals that ever buzzarded itself over a city in this nation.

Gov. Beckham says he has the authority to do this. If he has the authority, certainly he has the power. He is the Commander-in-Chief of our soldiery.

And, it's up to the Governor! Clean up Louisville, Governor!

Beckham; destroy the gang—the dirtiest gang of unshackled criminals in the nation, and such a shout of approval as will go up from the people of Washington county it has never been your pleasure to hear.

Vote for you, Governor! Indeed they will! They will shout for you! They will carry a banner with your name emblazoned upon it, and from the hill tops of Washington county, and in the valleys, they will cry out in a song of praise, "Beckham! Beckham! hurrah for Beckham!"

And the Democrats of Washington county are watching Louisville with much interest.

C. C. MCHORD.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Sun is reproduced editorials from the Evening Post and Louisville Herald referring to certain issues that will be involved in the selection of a Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner in this district. The tactics now being pursued by the railroads in the threatened effort to capture the Railroad Commission are by no means new to the people of the district. They are the same tactics adopted in every race made by Mr. McChord for this important office. After the fight made by the railroads in 1899 to capture the railroad commission and other State offices, and which led to the assassination of Governor William Goebel, it was given out by the managers of the railroads that in future they would stay out of politics, having found it to be a bad investment in that memorable contest. But it seems there was neither sincerity nor truth in this statement. Friends of Mr. McChord have known for some time that certain railroad interests were secretly organizing a fight against him in anticipation of his candidacy for this office. They did not know that they would be forced to show their hand this early in the action, and they will no longer be permitted to fight him under cover but, upon the contrary, will be forced to fight in the open, and it is with the people to say whether a railroad commission shall be nominated and elected to enforce the law or whether the railroads will be permitted to make the selection of men who will do their bidding. Their plan has always been, and will be in this contest, to have a candidate from the city of Louisville inasmuch as that city and Jefferson county constitute about one-third of the voting population of the district. Candidates will again be induced to announce from various counties throughout the country portions of the district and in case of a convention the effort will be to name delegates to attend the District Convention who will vote for the strongest candidate representing the railroad interests.

This is undoubtedly the most important juncture in the history of the Railroad Commission of Kentucky. The present Board has recently issued a tariff of rates cutting down the local mileage scale of railroads one-fourth. The railroads have instituted injunction suits against the commission in the Federal Court and a long-drawn-out legal battle is imminent.

Why should the people desire to make a change in the personnel of the Commission with reference to this district? It is easy to understand why the railroads should desire the change, for the reason that there is no man in the State better equipped, not only to discharge the important duties of this office, but to defend these injunction suits, than is the present Commissioner from this district.

WILLIAM R. HEARST.

William R. Hearst was nominated for Governor of New York last Wednesday. Hearst is "a man of millions" and he spends money lavishly. He is a philanthropist. He gives freely and often to the poor, and his newspaper reporters tell about his gifts in the most glowing manner. That is one of the secrets of Hearst's success. He is a friend of the laboring classes, he is the hero of the laborer. While his success in politics is due largely to the popularity he has attained through an open purse, it must be said that he is energetic—untiring in his efforts to further his own interests. While it is charged by his enemies that his immense wealth, and not his brains, is the cause of his success, we must admit that Willie is "nobody's fool." Keep an eye upon Hearst. The man who defeats him for Governor of New York will come out of the fight with his feathers ruffled, with a bruise or so, with his blood trickling, and his nerves "on edge."

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The Farmers' Institute, held in Springfield last Wednesday and Thursday, was not largely attended. The very inclement weather prevented many farmers being present, but we are sorry to say that a lack of interest was the cause of a great many not being here. The institute was under the personal supervision of Commissioner of Agriculture Vreeland, and was conducted in such a way as to not only make the proceedings instructive but entertaining.

It is unfortunate for the farmers of Washington county that they did not attend these meetings. The subjects discussed by Messrs. Davis and Miller were new, and were handled in a logical manner. It is said by not a few who heard them that if the farmers will heed the advice given it will be worth thousands of dollars to the county every year.

At an early date The Sun hopes to print, in part at least, the valuable addresses which were heard by so few farmers on last Wednesday and Thursday.

A Newsy Letter From the Thrifty Village On the Beech.

That erstwhile political prophet over at Mooresville, in the person of my friend W. O. E., says he is making no more prognostications since the result of the local option election was so contrary to his way of thinking. Now I am afraid, from what rumor says, he thinks McCree will carry this end of the county. He is a former Nelson county boy and should be for Beckham.

Mr. T. J. Settles is in Louisville this week as a delegate to the Sunday school convention from the Christian church at this place.

Mr. Wm. Huston, who was out a few days after an attack of fever, is in bed again quite sick. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Miss Mattie Andrews accompanied her sister, Mrs. Edith Duncan, to Louisville last Thursday to see a specialist. Mrs. Duncan has been in poor health for some time.

Mr. John Virgin and wife spent the past week at Liberty with their daughter, Mrs. Tom Reed.

Rev. Arthur O'Rear, pastor of the Methodist church, has been changed to Covington for the coming year. His people have become very much attached to him and his estimable wife and hate to give them up.

Frank Settles is on the sick list and unable to make his usual trips to Louisville with his huckster wagon.

We saw Springfield soldiers man go through our village with a load of whiskey last Friday. We welcome the day when such will be stopped.

Mrs. T. B. Flatgeber and children are spending two weeks in Fleming county visiting her kinpeople.

Our public school has closed on account of scarlet fever. All cases so far have been mild.

Mr. Bob Sutherland, of Chaplin, was the guest of Miss Katie Wackerfield last Friday.

Hurrah for J. Rogers Gore for the State Senate! We need such men for that body, and especially right now, to help pass more stringent local option laws.

Mr. George Thomas, who has recently been appointed by the Prison Commission to a position as guard, has come to Frankfort to assume his duties. His family will shortly follow him.

Mr. Earl Arnold, formerly our efficient mail carrier from Maud to Booker, has resigned his position under "Uncle Sam" and assumed a more lucrative one with Mr. Pete Shehan to handle his horses the coming winter.

The base ball game that was to be at "Wackerfield Park" between Willisburg and our boys failed to be "pulled off." The visiting team failed to show up, because of the disappointment of our boys.

Little Eloise Arnold was burned Saturday evening by running against and upsetting a bucket of hot water that her elder sister was carrying preparatory to giving her a bath, and the child having on but little or no clothing to retain the heat, escaped a serious burn.

The Modern Woodmen of America organized a lodge here last Saturday night with seventeen charter members.

Mr. E. E. Wackerfield, who has been quite sick for several weeks, is now recovering to the delight of his many friends.

While the approach to the new bridge across the Beech Fork has not been completed, yet we can use it as a foot bridge, and in an emergency it beats "fording it."

For the amusement of the many farmers these long winter evenings we have appointed the night of the 8th to organize an "Annals Club," D. H. Huston and M. L. Troutman are opponent candidates for the presidency. Either would make a good one. Come down W. O. E., of Mooresville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Russell, of Mackinac, spent Sunday with his uncle, G. H. Christerson.

Mr. J. H. Mayes, who has been confined to his room with hay fever, will soon be out again, and his daughter, Miss Ethel, who has had typhoid fever, is up in her room and will soon be out again.

Miss Daley Yankey is very ill, with typhoid fever.

It is said that the farmer is the man that feeds us all, but it seems that there is much in his way this year. While the wet weather continues the farmer is meeting with many disappointments. His tobacco is being ruined and there is much of his corn that is damaged. He can not cut any corn and this will make him late in preparing for another year.

ABOUT THE FARMER

These Items Will Prove Interesting.

A bachelor farmer is only half a farmer.

Guessing is not good thinking, neither does it result in good farming.

There is no such thing as inexhaustible soil, as many a farmer has learned to his sorrow.

The day is fast coming when the farmer will not only raise the crops but be a controlling factor in their sale and distribution.

It is evident that spraying methods are gaining in favor, for farmers are purchasing spraying outfits more generally than ever before.

Talking about changing a woman's opinion, did you ever try to convince the man who believes in planting crops "in the moon" that he was wrong?

Here is a thought for Farmer Easy-Good who looks many a dollar slip through his fingers, and farms pretty close to the debit side of the account. "Fools give away what wise men sell."

The experienced alfalfa grower bales in the field. He rakes it when wilted, puts it into cocks, for curing and then bales it. In this way the leaves are saved and a better quality of hay secured than if the hay were put into stack and then baled later.

The Glory of the West.

The editor of Farm and Home writes this tribute to King Corn, to which our heart responds:

The rose may bloom for England,
The olive of France,
Ireland may honor the shamrock,
Scotland her thistle hold;
But the shield of the great republic,
The glory of the West,
Shall bear the corn as its emerald corn,
Of all our wealth the best.

Within the short space of 24 hours food materials consumed by the cow become partially transformed into a finished, marketable and indispensable article of human food. At the same time about nine-tenths of the fertilizing value of the food eaten by the cow is made ready and returned to the soil to assist the farmer in the growing of other forage crops.

Here is Kansas flour and not corn that's in demand. An Arkansas City, Kan., firm has just shipped an order to Amsterdam, Holland, of 2,000,000 pounds of flour. The shipment was made in two installments, the first going in July via Galveston, and the second going in August via New Orleans and containing 1,069,000 pounds.

Spraying with Paris green promises to be an expensive pest exterminator for the farmer, for it has advanced in price nearly 50 per cent, owing to the flooding of the arsenic mines in Wales last year. Paris is also a corrosive and contains copper. Arsenic is the best insecticide, and constitutes the destructive part of arsenate of lead, which has become the most useful spray for fruit and shade trees.

A rat-proof nest is a necessity sometimes where the rats are numerous and where they have acquired the eating habit, as they often do. The nest is made as follows: Drive stakes into the ground as far as you can, and two feet above the surface. Then place the nest boxes on these in such way that the bottom of the box extends beyond the supports by several inches on all sides.

The importance of high ideals has its place upon the farm as elsewhere. Little Johnnie, having in his possession a couple of hantam hens which laid very small eggs, suddenly hit on a plan. Going the next morning to the fowl run, Johnnie's father was surprised to find an ostrich egg tied to one of the beams, and above it a card with the words: "Keep your eye on this, and do your best."

There are no modern dairies in Panama, according to the report of Consul C. C. Kellogg, of Colon, who says that the city of dairy products is one of the difficulties which the workers on the canal are called upon to face. The native dairymen are lazy and careless, giving no care to their stock. Milk is sold at from 20 to 25 cents, gold, a quart, and even then it is of poor quality. There are 15,000 acres of pasture land in the republic, but the question of feed is a more or less serious one, and yet in the opinion of Consul Kellogg a modern dairy, managed by an active, enterprising and well-trained American dairyman would make a fortune for its owner in a very few years. Stock raising, too, offers what Consul Kellogg believes a favorable opening for Americans, for beef is high and scarce, even the poorest quality selling for 20 to 25 cents gold per pound.
